disfigured faces and their broken-down constituqualifying them for the happiness of marriage joyment of life. In this horrid situation they er until death closes the scene. Let parents, , friends, attend to those who are suffering with hese horrible life-destroying maladies—see that cared for and cured before it be too late. Send mediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has vate diseases his especial study for years and who to cure the most inveterate cases without merary injurious drugs. It is important to those afflicted, or to those who are interested in the f their friends, to be careful of the many pre-ctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the using the names of eminent physicians from and other places. Be therefore careful and make uiry, or you may fall into the hands of these l Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This rice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced outh of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, g, with unerring certainty, the following train

d symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medures: via Sallow countenance, dark spots under , pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like ing of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in apg strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, ition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic pimples and various eruptions about the face, ngue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be ined, should apply immediately, either in person ter, and have a cure effected by his new and ad-ode of treating this disease, which never fails of a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Dollars to any person who will prove satisfacto-im that he was cured of this complaint by other

Caution to the Unfortunate.

rs of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, ich bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary, f the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be the daily and weekly newspapers of San Frand other places, are tradesmen, and became tired work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoe-
, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, ok over the San Francisco Directory, and you find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will ir former occupations in it. Look at the Direc-1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposito make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and you many regrets, for as advertising physi-eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no trusting any of them until you know who and ey are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Fellow Citizens of the Senate and House of Representatives:

Upon the reassembling of Congress it again becomes my duty to call your attention to the state of the Union and to its continued disorganization under the various laws which have been passed upon the subject of reconstruction.

THE OLD STORY REPEATED

It may be safely assumed as an axiom in the government of States that the greatest wrongs inflicted upon a people are caused by unjust and arbitrary legislation, or by the unrelenting decrees of despotic rulers, and that the timely revocation of unwise and oppressive measures is the greatest good that can be conferred upon a nation. The legislature or ruler who has the wisdom and magnanimity to retrace his steps when convinced of error will sooner or later be rewarded with the respect and gratitude of an intelligent and patriotic people. Our own history, although embracing a period of less than a century, affords abundant proof that most if not all of the State troubles are directly traceable to violations of the organic law and oppressive legislation. The most striking illustrations of this fact are the enactments of the past three years upon the question of reconstruction. After a fair trial they have substantially failed and proved pernicious in their results, and there seems to be no good reason why they should longer remain upon the statute book. States to which the Constitution guarantees a republican form of government have been reduced to dependencies, in each of which the people have been made subject to the arbitrary will of the commanding general. Although the Constitution requires that each State shall be represented in Congress, Virginia, Mississippi and Texas are yet excluded from the Houses, and contrary to the express provisions of that instrument have been denied participation in the recent election for President and Vice President of the United States. The attempt to place the white population of the South under the domination of persons of color in the South has impaired if not destroyed the kindly relations that had previously existed between them, and mutual distrust has engendered a feeling of animosity which, leading in some instances to collision and bloodshed, has prevented that co-operation between the two races so essential to the success of industrial enterprises in the Southern States.

Nor have the inhabitants of those States alone suffered from the disturbed condition of affairs growing out of Congressional enactments. The entire Union has been agitated by grave apprehensions of troubles which might again involve the peace of the nation. Its interests have been injuriously affected by the drought of business and labor and consequent want of prosperity through that part of the country. The Federal Constitution, the Magna Charta of American rights, under whose salutary provisions we have successfully conducted all our domestic and foreign affairs, sustained ourselves in peace and in war, and become a great Nation among the Powers of the earth, must assuredly be now adequate to the settlement of questions growing out of the civil war waged alone for its vindication. This great fact is made more manifest by the condition of the country.

When Congress assembled in the month of December, 1865, civil strife had ceased. The spirit of rebellion had spent its entire force in all the Southern States. The people had warmed into national life, and throughout the whole country a healthy reaction in public sentiment had taken place. By the application of the simple yet effective provisions of the Constitution, the Executive Department, with the voluntary aid of the States, had brought the work of restoration as near completion as was within the scope of its authority, and the nation was encouraged by the prospect of an early and satisfactory adjustment of all our difficulties. Congress, however, interfered and refusing to perfect the work so nearly consummated, and to admit members from the unreconstructed States, adopted a series of measures which arrested the progress of restoration, frustrated all that had been so successfully accomplished, and after three years of agitation and strife has left the country further from that attainment of union and fraternal feeling than at the commencement of the Congressional plan of reconstruction. It is now argued to show that the legislation which has produced such baneful consequences should be abrogated or else made to conform with the genuine principles of a republican government. Under the influence of party spirit and sectional prejudice other acts have been passed not warranted by the Constitution.

TENURE OF OFFICE BILL

Congress has already been made familiar with my views respecting the Tenure of Office bill. Experience has proved that its repeal is demanded by the best interests of the country, and that while it remains in force the President cannot enjoin that rigid accountability for public offices, so essential to an honest and efficient execution of the laws. Its repeal would enable the Executive Department to exercise the power of appointment and recall in accordance with the original design of the Constitution. The acts of March 2, 1868, making appropriations for the support of the army for the year ending June 30, 1868, and for other purposes, contains provisions which interfered with the President's functions as Commander in Chief of the Army, and with his duty to the States of the Union and their right to protect the States by means of their own militia. These provisions should be at once annulled, for while the first might, in times of great emergency, seriously embarrass the Executive in his efforts to employ and direct the common strength of the nation for its protection and preservation, the other is contrary to the expressed declaration of the Constitution that a well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed. It is believed that the repeal of such laws would be acceptable by the American people as at least a partial return to the fundamental principles of the government and an indication that thereafter the Constitution is to be made the Nation's safe and unerring guide. They cannot be productive of permanent benefit and should not be permitted to stand as so many monuments of the deficient wisdom which has characterized our recent legislation.

FINANCE

The condition of our finances demands the early and earnest consideration of Congress. Compared with the growth of our population the public expenditures have reached an amount unprecedented in our history. The population of the United States in 1790 was nearly 4 000 000 of people. Increasing each decade at the rate of about 33 per cent it reached in 1860 31 000 000, an increase of 700 per cent on the population of 1790. In 1869 it is estimated that it will reach 38 000,000, or an increase of 868 per cent in seventy nine years. The annual expenditures of the Federal Government in 1791 were $4 200 000; in 1820 $18 200 000; in 1850 $41 000 000; in 1860 $63 000 000; in 1865 nearly $1 300 000 000; and in 1869 it is estimated by the last annual report of the Secretary of the Treasury that they will be $372 000 000. By comparing the public disbursements of 1869 as estimated with those of 1791, it will be seen that the increase of expenditures since the beginning of the Government has been 8,618 per cent, while the increase of population for the same period was only 868. Again the expenses of the year of peace immediately preceding the war were only $63 000 000, while in 1869 the year of peace three years after the war it is estimated they will be $372 000 000, an increase of 489 per cent, while the increase of population was only 21 per cent for the same period. These statistics further show that in 1791 the annual national expenses compared with the population were a little more than one dollar per capita, and in 1860 but two dollars per capita, while in 1869 they will reach the extravagant sum of $9 78 per capita.

It will be observed that all of these statements refer to and exhibit the disbursements of peace periods. It may therefore be of interest to compare the expenditures of the three war periods, the war with Great Britain, the Mexican war and the war of the rebellion. In 1814 the annual expenses incident to the war of 1812 reached their highest amount, about thirty-one millions, while our population slightly exceeded eight millions, showing an expenditure of $3 80 per capita. In 1847 the expenditures growing out of the war with Mexico reached fifty-five millions, and the population about twenty-one millions, giving only $2 60 per capita for the war expenses of that year. In 1865 the expenditures called for by the rebellion reached the vast amount of $1 290 000 000, which compared with a population of 34 millions gives $38 20 per capita. From the 4th day of March 1789 to the 30th day of June 1861 the entire expenditures of the Government were $1 700 000 000. During that period we were engaged in war with Great Britain and Mexico, and were involved in hostilities with powerful Indian tribes. Louisiana was purchased from France at a cost of fifteen millions; Florida was ceded to us by Spain for five millions; California was acquired from Mexico for fifteen millions, and the territory of New Mexico was obtained from Texas for the sum of ten millions. Early in 1861 the war of rebellion commenced, and from the 1st of July of that year to the 30th of June 1865 the public expenditures reached the enormous aggregate of $3 300 000 000. Three years of peace have intervened, and during that time the disbursements of the Government have successively been [illegible]. Adding to these amounts [illegible] estimated as necessary for the fiscal year ending on the 30th of June 1869, we obtain a total expenditure of $1 600 000 000 during the four years immediately succeeding the war, or nearly as much as was expended during the seventy years that preceded the rebellion and embracing the extraordinary expenditures above named. These startling facts illustrate the necessity of retrenchment in all branches of the public service. Abuses which were tolerated during the war for the preservation of the nation will not be endured by the people now that profound peace prevails.

The receipts from internal revenue have during the last three years gradually diminished, and the continuance of useless and extravagant expenses will involve us in national bankruptcy, or else make inevitable an increase in the taxes, already too onerous and in many respects obnoxious on account of their inquisitorial character. One hundred millions yearly are expended for the military force, a large portion of which is employed in the execution of laws both unnecessary and unconstitutional. One hundred and fifty millions are required yearly to pay the interest on the public debt. An army of tax masters impoverishes the nation, and public agents are placed by Congress beyond the control of the Executive and have diverted from the legitimate purposes vast sums of money which they collect from the people in the name of the Government. Judicious legislation and prudent economy will only remedy these doings and avert an evil which, if suffered to exist, cannot fail to diminish confidence in the public councils and weaken the attachment and respect of the people toward their political institutions. Without proper care the small balance which it is estimated will remain in the Treasury at the close of the present fiscal year will be required, and additional millions will be added to a debt which is estimated by millions.

It is shown by the able and comprehensive report of the Secretary of the Treasury that the receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, were $405 638 083 32, and that the expenditures for the same period were $377 340,284, leaving in the Treasury a surplus $28 297 799. It is estimated that the receipts during the present fiscal year ending June 30, 1869, will be $341 392,868, and the expenditures $336,152,470, showing a small balance of $5,240 398 in favor of the Government. For the fiscal year ending June, 1870, it is estimated that the receipts will amount to $327,000 000 and the expenses to $303 000 000, leaving an estimated surplus of $24 000,000.

It is proper in this connection to make a brief reference to our public indebtedness, which has accumulated with such alarming rapidity and assumed such alarming colossal proportions. In 1789, when the Government commenced operations under the Federal Constitution, it was burdened with an indebtedness of $75,000 000, created during the war of Revolution. This amount had been reduced to $45 000,000, when in 1812 war was declared against Great Britain. The three years struggle that followed largely increased the national obligations, and in 1816 they had attained the sum of $127 000 000. Wise and economical legislation, however, enabled the Government to pay the entire amount within a period of twenty years and the extinguishment of the national debt filled the land with rejoicing and was one of the greatest events of President Jackson's administration. After its redemption a large fund remained in the Treasury which was deposited for safe keeping with the several States, on condition that it should be returned when required by the public wants. In 1849, the year after the termination of an expensive war with Mexico, we found ourselves involved in a debt of $64 000 000, and this was the amount the Government owed in 1860, just prior to the outbreak of the rebellion. In the Spring of 1861 our civil war commenced. Each year of its continuance made an enormous addition to the debt. When in the Spring of 1865, the Nation successfully emerged from the conflict, the obligations of the Government had reached the immense sum of $2 873 992 909. The Secretary of the Treasury shows that on the 1st day of November, 1867, this amount had been reduced to $2 491 504 450. But at the same time his report exhibits an increase during the past year of $35 625 102, for the debt on the 1st day of November last is stated to be $2 527 129 552. It is estimated by the Secretary that the returns for the past month will add to our liabilities the further sum of $14 000 000—making a total increase during thirteen months of $46 [illegible].

In my Message to Congress of December 1865, it was suggested that a policy should be devised which, without being oppressive to the people, would at once begin to effect a reduction of the debt and if persisted in discharge it fully within a definite number of years. The Secretary of the Treasury forcibly recommends legislation of this character, and justly urges that the longer it is delayed, the more difficult must become its accomplishment. We should follow the wise precedents established in 1789 and 1816, and without further delay make provision for the payment of our obligations at as early a period as may be practicable. The fruits of their labor should be enjoyed by our citizens rather than used to build up and sustain moneyed monopolies in our own and other countries. Our foreign debt is already computed by the Secretary of the Treasury at $850 000 000; citizens of foreign countries receive interest upon the larger portion of our securities, and American tax payers are made to contribute large sums for their support. The idea that such a debt is to become permanent should at all times be discarded as involving taxation too heavy to be borne. The payment once in every sixteen years at the present rate of interest makes an amount equal to the sum. If this vast debt is permitted to become permanent and increasing, it must eventually be gathered into the hands of a few and enable them to exert a dangerous and controlling power in the affairs of the Government. The borrowers would become the lenders and be the rulers of the people. We now pride ourselves upon having given freedom to 4 000 000 of the colored race. It will then be our shame that forty millions of people, by their own toleration of abuses and profligacy, have suffered themselves to become enslaved, and changed the slave owners for new task masters in the shape of bondholders and tax gatherers. Besides, permanent debts pertain to monarchical governments, and tending to monopolies, perpetuities and class legislation, are totally irreconcilable with the free institutions introduced into our Republican system. They would gradually but surely sap its foundations and eventually subvert our governmental fabric and erect upon its ruins a moneyed aristocracy. It is our duty to transmit unimpaired to our posterity the blessings of liberty which were bequeathed to us by the founders of the Republic, and by our example teach those who are to follow us carefully to avoid the dangers which beset the free and independent people.

Various plans have been proposed for the payment of the public debt. However they may have varied as to the time and mode in which they should be redeemed, there seems to be a general concurrence as to the propriety and justice of a reduction in the present rate of interest. The Secretary of the Treasury in his report recommends five per cent. Congress agreed in a bill passed prior to its adjournment on the 27th of July last upon four and four and a half per cent, while by many three per cent has been held to be an amply sufficient return for the investment. The general impression as to the exorbitancy of the existing rate of interest has led to an inquiry in the public mind respecting the consideration which the Government has actually received for its bonds, and the conclusion is becoming prevalent that the amount which it obtained was in real money three or four hundred per cent less than the obligations which it issued in return. It cannot be denied that we are paying an extraordinary percentage for the use of the money borrowed, which was paper currency greatly depreciated below the value of coin. This fact is made apparent when we consider that the bondholders receive from the treasury upon each dollar they own in Government securities six per cent in gold, which is nearly or quite equal to nine per cent in currency; that the bonds are then converted into capital for national banks, upon which those institutions issue their circulation, being six per cent interest, and that they are exempt from taxation by the Government and the States, and thereby enhanced two per cent in the hands of the holders. We thus have an aggregate of seventeen per cent, which may be realized upon each dollar by the owners of Government securities. A system that produces such results is justly regarded as favoring a few at the expense of the many, and has led to the further enquiry whether our bondholders, in view of large profits which they have enjoyed, would themselves be averse to a settlement of our debts upon a plan which would yield them a fair remuneration and at the same time be just to the tax payers of the nation. Our national credit should be sacredly observed, but in making provisions for our creditors we should not forget what is due to the masses of the people. It may be assumed that the holders of our securities have already received upon their bond a larger amount than their original investment measured by gold standard. Upon this statement of facts, it would seem but just and equitable that the six per cent interest now paid by the government should be applied to the reduction of the principal in semi-annual installments, which in sixteen years and eight months would liquidate the entire national debt. Six per cent in gold would be at the present rates equal to nine per cent in currency, equivalent to the payment of the debt one and a half times in a fraction less than seventeen years. This, in connection with other advantages derived from their investment, would afford to the public creditors a fair and liberal compensation for the use of their capital, and with this they should be satisfied. The lessons of the past admonish the lender that it is not well to be over anxious in exacting from the borrower a rigid compliance. Provisions must be made for the payment of the indebtedness of the government in the manner suggested, or the Nation will not rapidly recover its prosperity. Its interests require that some measures should be taken to release the large amount of capital in the Government. It is now not merely unproductive, but in taxation annually consumes $150 000 000, which would otherwise be used by our enterprising people in aiding our people needing encouragement in their efforts to recover from the effects of the rebellion and injudicious legislation, and it should be the will of the Government to stimulate them by the assurance of an early release from the burdens which impede their prosperity. If we cannot take the burdens from their shoulders we should at least manifest a willingness to help to bear.

In referring to the condition of their circulating mediums I shall merely reiterate the relations as substantially stated in my last annual message in relation to the subject. The proportion which the currency of any country should bear to the whole value of the annual produce circulated by its means is a question upon which political economists have not agreed, nor can it be controlled by legislation, but it must be left to the laws which everywhere regulate commerce and trade. The circulating medium will flow to those points where it is in greatest demand. The law of demand and supply is as unerring as that which regulates the tides of the ocean, and indeed currency, like the tides, has its ebbs and flows, throughout the commercial world.

At the beginning of the rebellion the bank note circulation of the country amounted to not much more than $200 000 000. Now the circulation of the National Bank notes and those as legal tenders is nearly $700,000 000. It is argued by some that this amount should be increased. Others contend that a decrease is absolutely essential to the interests of the country. In view of these diverse opinions it may be well to ascertain the proportional value of our paper issues when compared with a metallic or convertible currency. For this purpose let us enquire how much gold and silver could be purchased by the $700,000,000 of paper money now in circulation. Probably not more than half the amount of the latter, showing that when paper currency is compared with gold and silver its commercial value is compressed into $350 000 000. This striking fact makes it the duty of the Government, as early as may be consistent with the principles of sound political economy, to take such measures as will enable the holders of its notes and those of the national banks to convert them without loss into specie. The reduction of our paper circulating medium may not follow. This, however, would depend on the law of demand and supply, though it should be borne in mind that by making legal tenders and bank notes convertible into coin its equivalent, their present specie value in the hands of their holders would be enhanced 100 per cent. Legislation for the accomplishment of a result so desirable is demanded by the highest consideration.

The Constitution contemplates that the circulating medium of the country shall be uniform in quality and value. At the time of the formation of this instrument the country had just emerged from the revolution and was suffering from the effects of a worthless paper currency. The sages of that period were anxious to protect their posterity from the evils which they themselves had experienced. Hence in providing for a circulating medium they conferred upon Congress the power to coin money and regulate the value thereof, at the same time prohibiting the States from making anything but gold a legal tender in payment of debts. The anomalous condition of our currency is in striking contrast with that which was originally designed for our circulation. It now embraces first notes of national banks which are made receivable for all dues to the Government excepting imports, and by all its creditors excepting for payment of interest upon its bonds and the securities themselves; second, legal tender notes issued by the United States, and which the law requires should be received as well in payment of all debts due between citizens; third, gold and silver coin. By the operation of our present system of finances, however, the metallic currency is receipted for only by one class of government creditors—those holding bonds, who semi-annually receive their interest in coin from the national treasury. There is no reason which will be received as satisfactory by the people by those who defend the United States on land and protect the United States on the sea, the pensioner upon the gratitude of the nation bearing the scars and wounds received while in its service, the public servants in the various departments of the Government, the farmers who supply the soldiers of the army and the sailors of the navy, the artisan who toils in the nation's workshops, the mechanics and laborers who build its edifices and construct its forts and vessels of war, why they should in payment of their just and hard earned dues receive a depreciated paper currency, while another class of their countrymen, no more deserving, are paid in coin of gold and silver. Equal and exact justice requires that all the creditors of the Government should be paid in a currency possessing a uniform value. This can only be accomplished by the restoration of the currency to the standard established by the Constitution, and by this means we would remove a discrimination which may, if it has not already done so, create a prejudice that may become deep rooted and wide spread and imperil the national credit.

The feasibility of making our currency correspond with the constitutional standard may be seen by reference to a few facts derived from our commercial statistics. The aggregate produce of precious metals in the United States from 1849 to 1868 amounted to $1 174 000 000, while for the same period the nett exports of specie were $741 000 000. This shows an excess of products over the exports of $433 000 000. There are in the Treasury $103 407 985 in coin. The circulation in the States on the Pacific coast is about $40 000 000, and $ [illegible] are in the national and other banks, in all less than $160 000 000. Taking into consideration the specie in the country prior to 1849 and that produced since 1868, we have more than $300 000 000 not accounted for by exportation or by the returns of the Treasury, and therefore most probably remaining in the country. These are important facts and show how completely the inferior currency will supersede the better, forcing it from circulation among the masses and causing it to be exported as a mere article of trade, to add to the money capital of foreign lands. They show the necessity of retiring our paper money, that the return of gold and silver to the avenues of trade may be invited and the demand created which will cause retention at home of so much of the products of our rich and inexhaustible gold bearing fields as may be sufficient for the purposes of conversion It is unreasonable to expect a return to a sound currency so long as the Government and banks, by continuing the issue of irredeemable notes, fill the channels of circulation with depreciated paper Notwithstanding a coinage by our mints [illegible] the people are now strangers to the currency which was designed for their use and benefit, and specimens of the precious metals bearing the national device are seldom seen, except when produced to gratify the interest excited by their novelty If depreciated paper is to be continued as the permanent currency of the country, and all our coin is to become a mere article of traffic and speculation, to the enhancement in price of all that is indispensable to the comfort of the people, it would be wise economy to abolish our mints, thus saving the nation the care and expense incident to such establishments, and let all our precious metals be exported in bullion The time has come, however, when the Government and national banks should be required to take the most efficient steps and make all necessary arrangements for a resumption of specie payments Let specie payments once be earnestly inaugurated by the Government and banks and the value of the paper circulation would directly approximate a specie standard Specie payments having been resumed by the Government and banks, all notes or bills of paper issued by either of a less denomination than $20 should, by law, be excluded from circulation, so that the people may have the benefit of a gold and silver circulation which in all their business transactions will be uniform in value at home and abroad Every man of property and industry, every man who desires to preserve what he honestly possesses or to obtain what he can honestly earn, has a direct interest in maintaining a safe circulating medium such a medium as shall be real and substantial and not liable to evaporate with opinion, and not subject to be blown up or down by the breath of speculation, but to be made stable and secure. A disordered currency is one of the greatest political evils It undermines the virtues necessary for the support of the social system and encourage propensities destructive of its own happiness It wars against industry, frugality and economy and fosters an evil spirit of extravagance and speculation It has been asserted by one of our profound statesmen that of all contrivances for cheating the laboring classes of mankind none have been more effectual than that which deludes them with paper currency This is the most effectual of inventions to fertilize the rich man's fields by the sweat of the poor man's brow Ordinary tyranny oppression by excessive taxation bear lightly on the happiness of the community compared with a fraudulent currency and the robberies committed by a depreciated paper Our own history has recorded for our instruction enough and more than enough of the demoralizing tendency of the injustice and the intolerable oppression on the virtuous and well disposed by degraded paper currency Authorized by the law or in any way countenanced by the Government it is one of the most successful devices in times of peace or war, to accomplish the transfer of all the precious metals from the great mass of the people into the hands of a few where they are hoarded in secret places, or deposited under bolts and bars while the people are left to endure all the inconveniences sacrifices and demoralization resulting from the use of depreciated and worthless paper

FOREIGN RELATIONS

No important question has occurred during the last year to mar our accustomed cordial and friendly intercourse with Costa Rica, Guatemala Honolulu, San Salvador, France Austria, Belgium, Switzerland, Portugal, The Netherlands Denmark, Sweden and Norway, Greece Turkey Persia, Egypt, Liberia Morocco Tripoli Tunis Muscat, Siam, Borneo and Madagascar Cordial relations have been maintained with the Argentine and the Oriental Republics The expressed wish of Congress that our national good offices might be tendered to these Republics and also to Brazil and Paraguay for bringing to an end the war which has so long been raging in the valley of the La Platta has been assiduously complied with and kindly acknowledged by all the belligerents These important negotiations have been thus far without result. Charles A Washburne, late U S Minister to Paraguay, having resigned, and being desirous to return to the United States, the Rear Admiral commanding the South Atlantic Squadron, was ordered to send a ship of war to the Capital of Paraguay to receive Washburne and his family and remove them from a situation which was represented to be dangerous from the factions and foreign war

The Brazilian commander of the allied invading forces refused permission to the Wasp to pass through the blockading fleet and that vessel returned to its accustomed anchorage. Remonstrance having been made against this refusal, it was promptly overruled and the Wasp thereupon resumed her errand, receiving Washburne, and conveyed him and his family to a safe and convenient port. In the meantime an excited controversy had arisen between the President of Paraguay and the late U. S. Minister, which, it is understood, grew out of his proceedings in giving asylum in the U. S. Legation to alleged enemies of that Republic. The question of the right to give asylum is one always difficult to determine and often productive of great embarrassment In States well organized and established, foreign powers refuse either to concede or exercise that right, except to persons actually belonging to the diplomatic service On the other hand, all such persons insist upon exercising the right of asylum in States where the law of nations is not fully acknowledged, respected and obeyed The President of Paraguay is understood to have been opposed to Washburne's proceedings. The injurious and very improbable charge is made of personal complicity in insurrection and treason The correspondence, however, has not yet reached the United States Washburne, in connection with this controversy, represents that United States citizens, attached to the Legation, were arbitrarily seized at his side, when leaving the capital of Paraguay, committed to prison and there subjected to torture for the purpose of procuring a confession of their own criminality and testimony to support the present allegation against the United States Minister Mr Memahon, the newly appointed Minister to Paraguay, having reached the Laplotta, has been instructed to proceed without delay to Asuncion to investigate the whole subject The Rear Admiral commanding the United States South Atlantic squadron has been directed to attend the new Minister with a proper naval force to sustain such just demands as the occasion may require, and to vindicate the rights of the United States citizens referred to, and of any others who may be exposed to danger at the theatre of war With these exceptions friendly relations have been maintained between the United States and Brazil and Paraguay Our relations during the past year with Bolivia Ecuador, Peru and Chile, have been especially friendly and cordial Spain and the Republics of Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador have expressed their willingness to accept the mediation of the United States for terminating the war upon the South Pacific coast Chile has not finally declared upon the questions. In the meantime, the conflict has practically exhausted itself, since no belligerent or hostile movement has been made by either party during the last two years, and there are no indications of a present purpose to resume hostilities on either side Great Britain and France have cordially seconded our proposition of mediation, and I do not forego the hope that it may soon be accepted by all the belligerents and lead to a secure establishment of peace and friendly relations between the Spanish American Republics of the Pacific and Spain, a result which would be attended with common benefits to the belligerents and much advantage to all commercial nations I communicate for the consideration of Congress a correspondence which shows that the Bolivian Republic has established the extremely liberal principle of receiving into its citizenship any citizen of the United States or of any other of the American Republics, upon the simple condition of voluntary registry The correspondence submitted will be found painfully replete with accounts of the ruin and wretchedness produced by the recent earthquakes of unparalleled severity in the Republics of Peru Ecuador and Bolivia The diplomatic agents and naval officers of the United States, who were present in those countries at the time of the disasters furnished all the relief in their power to the sufferers and were promptly rewarded with grateful and touching acknowledgments by the Congress of Peru An appeal to the charity of our fellow citizens has been answered by much liberality In this connection I submit an appeal which has been made by the Republic whose government is kindred to our own in behalf of its inhabitants, who are suffering extremely produced by recent devastation and inundations Our relations with Mexico during the year have been marked by an increasing growth of commerce The Mexican Government has ratified the three treaties negotiated here last summer for establishing the rights of naturalized citizens upon a liberal and just basis, for regulating consular powers and for the adjustment of mutual claims All commercial men as well as friends of Republican institutions have reason to regret the frequent local disturbances which occur in some of the States of Columbia Nothing has occurred however to affect the harmony and cordial friendship which has for several years existed between that youthful and vigorous Republic and our own

Negotiations are pending with a view to the survey and construction of a ship canal across the Isthmus of Darien under the auspices of the United States I hope to be able to submit the result of those negotiations to the Senate during the present session The very liberal treaty which was entered into last year by the United States and Nicaragua has been ratified by the latter Republic Costa Rica with the earnestness of a friendly neighbor, solicits a reciprocity of trade, which I commend to the consideration of Congress The convention [illegible] by the treaty between the United States and Venezuela in July 1865 for the mutual adjustment of claims has been held and communications have been received at the Department of State that the heretofore recognized law having been imparted under circumstances which promise durability, it has been recognized I have been reluctantly obliged to ask explanation and satisfaction for injuries committed by the President of the Republic of Hayti The political and social condition of Hayti and St Domingo is very unsatisfactory and painful The abolition of slavery which has been carried into effect throughout the Island and the entire West Indies except the Spanish Islands of Cuba and Porto Rico has been followed by a profound popular conviction of the rightfulness of republican institutions and an intense desire to secure them The attempt to establish republics there encounters many obstacles most of which may be said to result from long indulged habits of colonial supineness and dependence upon European monarchical powers While the United States has on all occasions professed a decided unwillingness that any part of this continent or of its adjacent islands shall be made a theater for a new establishment of monarchical power, little has been done by the United States on the other hand to attach the communities by which we are surrounded to our own country or to lend even a moral support to the efforts they are so resolutely and constantly making to secure republican institutions for themselves It is indeed a question of grave consideration whether our recent and present example is not calculated to check the growth and expansion of these principles and make these communities distrust if not dread a Government which at will consigns to military domination States that are parts of our Federal Union, and while ready to resist any attempt by other nations to bring to this hemisphere the monarchical institutions of Europe, assumes to establish over a large portion of its people a rule more absolute, harsh and tyrannical than any known to civilized Powers

The acquisition of Alaska was made with a view to extend national jurisdiction and republican principles on the American hemisphere Believing that a further step could be taken in the same direction I last year entered into a treaty with the King of Denmark for the purchase of the islands of St Thomas and St John on the best terms then attainable, and with the express consent of the people of these islands This treaty is still under consideration in the Senate a new covenant having been entered into with Denmark enlarging the time fixed for the final ratification of the original treaty A comprehensive national policy would seem to sanction the acquisition and incorporation into our Federal Union of the several adjacent continental and insular communities as speedily as it can be done peacefully, lawfully and without any violation of national justice faith or honor Foreign possession or control of these communities has hitherto hindered their growth and impaired the influence of the United States Chronic revolution and anarchy there would be equally injurious Each of them when firmly established as an independent Republic, or when incorporated in the United States would be a new source of strength and power Shaping my Administration to these principles, I have on no occasion lent support to the plea of republican propagandism or national extension or aggrandizement The necessity, however of suppressing such unlawful movements clearly indicates a duty which rests upon us of adapting our legislative action to the new circumstances of the decline of European monarchical power or influence and the increase of American ideas and interests and sympathies It cannot be long before it will become necessary for this Government to lend some effective aid to the solution of the political and social problems which are continually kept before the world by the Republicans of the island of St. Domingo, and which are now disclosing themselves more distinctly than heretofore in the island of Cuba The subject is commended to your consideration with all the more earnestness because I am satisfied the time has arrived when even so great a proceeding as a proposition for annexation of the two Republics of the island of St. Domingo would not only receive the consent of the people interested, but would also give satisfaction to all foreign nations I am aware that upon the question of extending our possessions, it is argued by some that our political system cannot successfully be applied to an area more extended than our continent, but the conviction is rapidly gaining ground in the American mind that with increased facilities for communication between all portions of the earth, the principles of free government, embraced in our Constitution, if faithfully maintained and carried out, would prove of sufficient strength and breadth to comprehend, with their sphere and influence, the civilized nations of the world

The attention of the Senate and Congress is again respectfully called to the treaty for the establishment of commercial reciprocity with the Hawaiian Kingdom entered into last year and already ratified by that government The attitude of the United States towards these Islands is not very different from that in which it stands towards the West Indies It is known and felt by the Hawaiian government and people that their government and institutions are feeble and precarious and that the United States being so near a neighbor, would be unwilling to see the Islands pass under foreign control Their prosperity is continually disturbed by expectations and alarms of unfriendly political proceedings, as well from the United States as from other foreign powers A reciprocity treaty, while it would not nationally diminish the revenue of the United States, would be a guaranty of good will and forbearance of all nations until the people of the Islands shall of themselves at no distant day, voluntarily apply for admission into the Union

The Emperor of Russia has acceded to the treaty negotiated here in January last for security of trademarks and in the interests of manufacturers and commerce have invited his attention to the importance of establishing now, while it seems easy and profitable a fair and equal regulation of the Islands belonging to the Nations in the waters of the Pacific ocean

The two treaties between the United States and Italy, for the regulation of Consul powers and the extradition of criminals, negotiated and ratified here during the last session of Congress have been accepted and confirmed by the Italian government A liberal Consular treaty which has been negotiated with Belgium will be submitted to the Senate

The very important treaties which were negotiated between the United States and North Germany and Bavaria for guarding the rights of naturalized citizens here have been duly ratified and confirmed Similar treaties have been entered into with the Kingdoms of Belgium Wurtemburg and the Grand Duchy of Baden and of Hesse, and I hope soon to be able to submit equally satisfactory conventions of the same character, now in course of negotiation with the governments of Spain, Italy and the Ottoman Empire

The examination of claims against the United States by the Hudson Bay Company and the Puget Sound Agricultural Company, on account of certain possessory rights in the State of Oregon and the Territory of Washington alleged by these companies in virtue of the provision of the treaty between the United States and Great Britain of June 15th 1846 has been diligently prosecuted under the direction of a joint international commission to which they were submitted for adjudication by the treaty between the governments of July 1st 1863 and will it is expected be concluded at an early day

No practical regulation of controversy relative to the Colonial trade and fisheries can be accomplished by a treaty between the United States and Great Britain until Congress shall have expressed its judgment concerning the principles involved Three other questions however between the United States and Great Britain remain open for adjustment These are the mutual rights of naturalized citizens the boundary question involving the title to the island of San Juan on the Pacific coast and the mutual claims arising since the year 1854 of the citizens and subjects of the two countries for injuries and depredations committed under the authority of their respective governments Negotiations upon these subjects are pending and I am not without hope of being able to lay before the Senate for its consideration during the present session a protocol calculated to bring to an end these justly exciting and long existing controversies

We are advised of the action of the Chinese government upon the liberal and auspicious treaty which was recently celebrated with its plenipotentiaries at this Capital

Japan remains a theatre of civil war marked by religious incidents and political severities peculiar to that long isolated place The Executive has hitherto maintained strict neutrality among the belligerents, and acknowledges with pleasure that it has been frankly and fully sustained in that course by the enlightened concurrence and co-operation of the other treaty powers namely Great Britain France The Netherlands North Germany and Italy

Spain having recently undergone a revolution marked by extraordinary unanimity and preservation of order the provisional government established at Madrid has been recognized The friendly intercourse which has so long and happily existed between the two countries remains unchanged

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION

I renew the recommendation contained in my communication to Congress, dated July last a copy of which accompanies this message that the judgment of the people should be taken on the propriety of so amending the Federal Constitution that it shall provide for an election of President and Vice President by the direct vote of the people instead of through the agency of Electors and of making them ineligible for a re-election to a second term For distinct designation of the person who shall discharge the duties of President in the event of a vacancy in that office by death resignation or removal of both President and Vice President for the election of Senators of the United States directly by the people of the several States instead of by Legislatures and for the limitation to a period of years of the terms of the Federal Judges Earnestly impressed with the propriety of making these important modifications in the Constitution I respectfully submit them for the early and mature consideration of Congress We should as far as possible remove all pretexts for a violation of the organic law by remedying such imperfections as time and experience may develop ever remembering that the Constitution which at any time exists until changed in an explicit and authoritative way is the Constitution of the whole people is sacredly obligatory upon all

In the performance of the duty imposed upon me by the Constitution I have thus communicated to Congress information of the state of the Union and recommended for their consideration such measures as have seemed to be necessary and expedient If carried into effect it will be the accomplishment of the great purpose by which the Constitution was ordained which it comprehensively states was to form a more perfect Union establish justice insure domestic tranquility provide for the common good and the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity In Congress are vested all legislative powers, and upon them devolves the responsibility as well for framing unwise and excessive laws as for neglecting to devise and adopt measures absolutely demanded by the wants of the country. Let us earnestly hope that before the expiration of our respective terms of service now rapidly drawing to a close, an All wise Providence will so guide our counsels as to strengthen and preserve the Federal Union inspire reverence for the Constitution, restore prosperity and happiness to our whole people and promote on earth peace and good will towards men

ANDREW JOHNSON

WASHINGTON Dec 9, 1868

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, DEC 11, 1868

Erroneous Statements Corrected

The Unionist complains that the OREGONIAN is acting "in a dictatorial spirit and claiming preference for its immediate circle of friends. The OREGONIAN does not presume to dictate and in a political sense it has no circle of friends except the Republican party We have no preference to express for any one person over another All we demand in the matter of official appointments is that the appointees shall be upright and capable men and fully in accord with the Republican party Knowing that a large part of the Federal patronage in this State has been used unscrupulously against the Republicans for several years past our party have a right to demand that this thing shall now cease It is neither dictation nor presumption for us to say this The voice we utter is the voice of the entire Republican party of Oregon

The Unionist with a want of candor that is painful to witness, says that in its article of Sunday "no defence of Dr Bayley's record was essayed" What then was the meaning of that apologetic remark, viz That the Republican party "is composed of thinking men, and if a member of it should honestly differ from us in his views of some fundamental principle we are not ready to read him out of the party Dr Bayley had differed from the Republican party on the leading principle which was at issue between that party and its opponents Being in a representative position to which he was elected by Republican votes, he threw his influence and his vote against the 14th Amendment, to defeat which was to overthrow the Republican party and cause the triumph of Johnson and his rebel-Copperhead allies yet his apologist denominates this action as an "honest difference of opinion," and thinks it perfectly proper that he should now be rewarded for it by being advanced to an important official position We will, however, do Dr Bayley the justice to say that he is quite as deserving of this advancement as the proprietor of the Unionist is of holding an office at the hands of a party which he tried to Copper-Johnsonize in 1866 and which he labored to defeat only last June

Again that paper says "As to our fling at Mr Logan, we simply deny that anything was said about him" Worse and worse What do the words "our late candidate for Congress" mean? Such uncandid denials no one can have patience with

The Unionist charges that our course is calculated to lower our Senators in the esteem of their constituents Not so We are anxious to see our Senators take such a course as will strengthen the party, cause them to be sustained and enable the party to keep them in the places they have so worthily filled But we know as all the true friends of our Senators and of the Republican party know, that the only way to achieve success is to pursue an open straight forward course and rely on the firm supporters of Republican principles and measures We know of no way to achieve political success except through the agency of political parties and we know of no way to maintain a party except by adherence to party usages and methods

MICHIGAN —In this State the vote of thirteen counties was not returned to the canvassers within the time required by law The vote of the remaining counties was, Grant 113 22[illegible], Seymour 83,364 Republican majority 30,8[illegible] Total vote, 195,6[illegible] Including the counties not returned in time the whole vote was 122 830, and Grant s majority 30 072

GLAD TO HEAR IT The Unionist denies the allegation that it is about to follow in the course of its predecessor the Statesman We are gratified that its proprietor is resolved not to repeat his conduct of three years ago when he was the leading spirit of the Copper Johnson clique which had the Statesman for their organ

AGRICULTURAL REPORT The annual report of the Agricultural Department for 1867 is going through the press and will soon be ready for distribution Congress has ordered 225 000 copies of it It makes a volume of 500 pages and is said to be by far the best report ever issued by the department

NEW YORK The official canvass of the vote of New York by the State canvassers slightly alters the figures we gave the other day On the electoral ticket the Democratic majority is 10 003 The Democratic vote is 42[illegible] the Republican vote is 419 894 Total [illegible]

MASSACHUSETTS The vote of this State was Grant 136 477 Seymour, 59 408 Grant's majority 77 069 Total vote [illegible] In 1864 whole vote for President 175 487 Lincoln's majority 77 1[illegible]

INDIANA The total vote of Indiana for President was 343 042 Grant 176 552 Seymour 166 980 Republican majority 10 172 The vote of the State has increased 63,577 since the Presidential election of 1864

Perverse as Ever

Thank heaven we have A Johnson's last Into his final message he has compressed all the malignity, perverseness and shallow special pleading of all his former efforts Congress should have refused to receive his paper It is an insult to that body and the nation Is it conceivable that there is any other man in the world who in Andrew Johnson's situation would have committed the folly of denouncing the reconstruction legislation of Congress recommending its repeal and urging the adoption of his own thrice condemned policy? Yet this is what Johnson actually does It is no use to multiply words to characterize the blind perverse folly of such conduct Any one knowing nothing of the willful obstinacy of the man, President would suppose that he had not heard the verdict of the people on the measures which he condemns That portion of the message which relates to finances is a repetition verbatim of an electioneering document which he issued in October in behalf of Seymour and Blair It is extremely fortunate that the country is so nearly done with this hazy headed demagogue

HOW VERY LIBERAL The Herald takes up Dr Bayley's case and thinks it very wrong that he should be censured for the mere act of exercising his opinion in a single instance, meaning his opposition to the Fourteenth Amendment Now if this had been a difference of opinion regarding an ordinary party measure we never would have noticed it but it was an act of opposition to the central idea of the Republican party The contest between the parties was on the adoption of the Amendment Had the Amendment failed the Republican party would have gone down Bayley has therefore struck a blow at the existence of the party The Herald would try to make it appear that its own party is very liberal indeed, and that it will tolerate among its members a very great latitude of opinion and action We all remember that in this State a few years ago no man was considered a good Democrat who did not blindly adhere to his party through thick and thin

FREEDMEN'S BUREAU On the 17th November General Howard issued an order for the discontinuance of the Freedmen's Bureau excepting the educational department which is mostly maintained by the blacks themselves and by donations from the Northern States

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO DECEMBER 9.

WASHINGTON, Dec 8.—In the Senate the President presented a communication from the Secretary of the Interior setting forth the destitute condition of the Indians on the Upper Missouri and their urgent need also a communication from the Commissioner of Patents, transmitting accounts of the receipts and expenditures of the office

A bill was introduced abolishing the franking privilege ordered printed

Mr Sumner offered a resolution calling for information as to alleged outrages by Lopez, President of Paraguay

Mr Drake called up the resolution offered last July, to amend the rules of the Senate so as to require Indian treaties to be considered in open session. Laid over

Several other bills and resolutions were introduced, when the Senate adjourned

CINCINNATI Dec 8 —The National Board of Trade adjourned to day The next meeting will be held at Richmond, Virginia

In the House the bill to increase the duty on imported copper passed 167 to 51

The Speaker presented the report of the Secretary of the Treasury, also a statement of judgment rendered by the Court of Claims, also a communication enclosing the resolutions of the Oregon Legislature The Clerk read endorsement on the paper as follows Resolutions of the Legislative Assembly of Oregon instructing their Senators in Congress to resign having voted for measures plainly unconstitutional, which have overthrown liberty and free government and consigning the citizens of eleven States to an odious and despotic dictatorship

Washburne of Illinois said "the title is enough I move the paper be returned to the source whence it came"

After some discussion the paper was read in full after which a resolution was adopted directing that the document be returned to the proper officers of both branches of the Oregon Legislature, the same being scandalous and impertinent and a resolution was adopted calling on the Secretary of War for information relative to the cost of suppressing Indian hostilities for the last three years

Mr Butler of Massachusetts, introduced a bill to repeal the Tenure of Office Act Referred

Mr Garfield from the Military Committee reported a bill for transfer of the Indian Bureau to the War Department after the 1st of January next He moved the previous question on its passage

Mr Windom hoped a bill of such importance would not be passed under the previous question The House seconded the previous question

Mr Garfield distributed the hour allowed him for closing the debate among the members desiring to discuss the bill

Mr Windom styled the War Department the great maelstrom of the Treasury He said to take care of the 7 000 Indians in Arizona under the War Department, would cost $1 000 000 while the 100 000 other Indians would only cost $100,000

Clark of Kansas, styled the Indian Bureau another standing disgrace

Schenck spoke of the Indian Agents as corrupt by having entrusted in provoking Indian war in which they encountered no peril He said the War Department would be much more likely to avoid than provoke war Others discussed the question and the bill passed—116 to [illegible]

PREMIUM GANG PLOWS!

AS THE AGE IN WHICH WE LIVE DEMANDS progress in Farm Implements as well as in all other branches of industry we have determined to enter extensively upon the manufacture of the

CELEBRATED GANG PLOW

"CHALLENGE!"

known as MASON'S PATENT PLOW patented Oct [illegible] 1868 This Plow combines all the desirable points of a perfect implement being simple in construction cheap durable and of light draft This Plow was awarded the First Premium at the Oregon State Fair Oct [illegible] 1868 The depth of the furrow is regulated by the crank axle which is so arranged that the Plow can be driven deeper or shallower at the pleasure of the driver when the team is moving by means of a lever

This is the most substantial and durable Plow ever offered to the public being made of wrought iron and steel in lieu of cast iron commonly used With this Plow a man or boy can do more work than two men can do with walking plows with the same amount of team Hence it will be seen that it will more than pay for itself in one season's plowing

Any person wishing any of the above Plows by ordering through Wells Fargo & Co can have the same shipped to their order

PROCLAMATION [illegible]

Dear Parents and Children! [illegible]
And wish you good Christ[illegible]
I ve brought you glad tid[illegible]
My Budget of W[illegible]
I ve spread out my treasures, so glad
And visit the nice GIFTS I've [illegible]
My Presents this year were [illegible]
By Mercer's new clipper the swift [illegible]
The stock s most complete! The [illegible]
Curiosities rare, of all [illegible]
I ve Dollies that talk—I ve [illegible]
(Some very handsome, I [illegible]
I ve Fish that can swim—I ve [illegible]
To crow so like nature, you'd think [illegible]
I ve Guns, and I ve Cannon [illegible]
And Soldiers that look very neat [illegible]
I ve Puzzles and Pistols Then [illegible]
I've Candles Reflectors, and [illegible]
I ve beautiful Baskets, (a nice gift for [illegible]
And handsome Cigar [illegible]
While there's nothing so [illegible]
As a beautiful portrait of [illegible]
I've Work Boxes—handsome as ever
With ladies utensils all nicely [illegible]
I ve nice setts of China—I ve Vases of [illegible]
And Musical Boxes that play at all hours
I ve Furniture Villages, [illegible]
That gay little joker called Jack in [illegible]
I ve Tables and Dressers for Chins or dolls
I ve nice Solitaire, that you play by [illegible]
I ve new Magic Lanterns—[illegible]
To make all good children [illegible] at night.
For girls at school I ve a nice [illegible]
And for family fun I've the new [illegible]
I ve Games that instruct, and Books that [illegible]
For Gifts [illegible] good people I never [illegible]
In fine I ve got all that each heart could desire
To name them all over your pat[illegible]
But call on me early or call on me late,
I ll visit your houses all over the [illegible]
In Washington's clime—up in [illegible]
I m sure to find children wherever I go
I ve travelled for years—you all must [illegible]
I ll be Sixty nine at the end of [illegible]
My hair is all white and my body [illegible]
To the latest sensation—the new [illegible]
On Christmas Eve night as in bed you [illegible]
With pack on my back down each [illegible]
I ll lay out my Presents but oh! [illegible]
Should I find a hole in any one's [illegible]
So for HOLIDAY GOODS—for Dolls [illegible]
Go to McCORMICK S—you'll [illegible]
Nice Presents or Gifts—any kind you [illegible]
You ll find at the "FRANKLIN"—(the [illegible]
In FRONT STREET Near Alder—108
In fact you can't miss it [illegible]
Don t ask goods at cost for you'll find, [illegible]
That goods sold at cost" always cost very high!
But to purchasers all this maxim I'd give,
Live well yourself, and thus let others live!
[illegible] Given at my Palace, in [illegible]

OREGON CEMENT —We find in a late San F[illegible] [illegible] statement in which it is stated [illegible] late earthquakes that [illegible] have taught the nec[illegible] [illegible] building mortar than has [illegible] [illegible] necessary and that is conse[illegible] [illegible] attention is being [illegible] the sources of supply The [illegible] upward of 80 000 barrels of cem[illegible] distributed in this city for California use, of whi[illegible] [illegible] used on this coast That which [illegible] one-half [illegible] Cape Horn comes principally fro[illegible] [illegible] prepared at the Rondale, [illegible] York [illegible] and Hoffman [illegible] on the Hudson [illegible] [illegible] England (known as [illegible] [illegible] applicable to [illegible] cement [illegible] cement has, thus f[illegible] [illegible] at Benicia, where are situate[illegible] exclusively [illegible] the stone which is found in detache[illegible] [illegible] from all directions in [illegible] [illegible] brought in small [illegible] to this [illegible] From Benicia [illegible] 800 barrels per mo[illegible] the Benicia article is lighter than the Eastern is the[illegible] [illegible] for convenience, and a differ[illegible] opinion seems to exist as to the respective merits [illegible] [illegible] of our informants states [illegible] sales have averaged ten barrels since the earthqu[illegible] one before that event Messrs Knapp & Grant [illegible] [illegible] Oregon cement and the suppl[illegible] that direction although not very large as yet, [illegible] [illegible] the entire California dema[illegible] has been properly tested and is found equal to a[illegible] variety that is imported The works belong[illegible] the above named firm are located in Washington [illegible] tory across the Columbia river from Astoria, [illegible] comes the name of "Oregon cement" It is asser[illegible] this quality can hopelessly undersell the Eastern [illegible] eventually drive it from the market. The New [illegible] is worth about $5 per barrel of 300 pou[illegible] $1 more than the Benicia. The business is cont[illegible] increasing and will it is thought, soon double i[illegible] est magnitude

AN ALTERATION DEMANDED —The audience room [illegible] court house has always been an auricular nuis[illegible] being difficult to hear or distinguish words spoken [illegible] distance of half the room. Something more than [illegible] ago some experiments were made for the pur[illegible] ascertaining the cause of the trouble, with the [illegible] applying the remedy but no definite [illegible] arrived at, and the room [illegible] architect had a theory that the open cupola was [illegible] the matter and the base was [illegible] closed [illegible] lumber Some people [illegible] that this improve[illegible] transmission of sounds; others thought not, but [illegible] events, the lumber was taken down and the sound [illegible] tinued mixed During the past term of the C[illegible] petition has been signed by the Jurors and the me[illegible] of the bar asking the County Court to have the [illegible] the cupola closed with a skylight. The [illegible] for the erection of a stove for [illegible] air arrangement is a failure.

FOR THE RELIEF OF THE [illegible]—Of late several [illegible] lars, praying for contributions to aid the [illegible] of [illegible] zerland, who in several of the Cantons have [illegible] been visited by a terribly [illegible] flood, hav[illegible] received here and we believe some efforts hav[illegible] made to raise money One of [illegible] the State Council of the Canton of Ticino, was hand[illegible] yesterday with a request that we call [illegible] [illegible] and state that Mr Henry S [illegible] of this cit[illegible] be happy to receive and [illegible] any contribution[illegible] may be made Mr Saxer is a gentl[illegible] of the [illegible] integrity and any commission of this kind entrus[illegible] him will be faithfully executed.

BAD ROADS.—Almost every day we are [illegible] up [illegible] some road supervisor for neglect to [illegible] roads in his district. "Stirring up" [illegible] is some[illegible] a pleasant job and sometimes quite the [illegible] time [illegible] local gets "stirred up," [illegible] when he [illegible] into the stirring up business. We don't mind this [illegible] however, when any great public good is to be [illegible] of by "stirring up" somebody. [illegible] bad roads neglected roads etc, are very [illegible] frequently very loud, and not [illegible] public good demands that [illegible] roads shall be at [illegible] passable and we give notice that [illegible] a long we[illegible] stir up somebody for neglect of one or two of our [illegible] important roads

MARINE SHELLS FOUND IN SOLID ROCK —Mr Jeb [illegible] of Astoria, has left at this office some [illegible] embedded in solid rock, at a height of not less tha[illegible] hundred and fifty feet from the level of the river at [illegible] ria They were discovered while [illegible] rocks whi[illegible] was found necessary [illegible] in the grading of [illegible] the streets The shells are as [illegible] formation as when they [illegible] about in the mud The [illegible] the lands of this coast are [illegible] not only in the Coast [illegible] of the interior and [illegible]

U S. DISTRICT COURT [illegible] —The follo[illegible] were the proceedings yesterday in the U. S. Di[illegible] Court

United States vs. A. B. [illegible] jury [illegible] reported that they could not agree upon a [illegible] and that upon discharged Upon [illegible] of J. C. Cartwr[illegible] U S. Attorney a nolle was [illegible] defendant was discharged.

In Re P G [illegible] and S. L. Barr, in [illegible] order adjudging them [illegible] and that warrants [illegible] to the Marshal as [illegible]

Court adjourned until [illegible] next at 10 A. M.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON J [illegible] —The following pro[illegible] ings were had in the Circuit Court [illegible]

William and Catherine O'Hara vs. City of Portl[illegible] jury empanneled and the after [illegible] hearing evidence and argument [illegible] of jury, [illegible] for plaintiff in the sum of $2,000.

Robt. McCall vs County of Mult[illegible] suit for [illegible] ages Jury empanneled.

K. A. MASONRY —The [illegible] of Portl[illegible] 3Ob [illegible] elected last evening, as officers: John McCr[illegible] H P J H Couch, K; H. F Block S., C. H. THE SILVER ORE DISCOVERY.—We find that in our [illegible] concerning the discovery of [illegible] ore on the Col[illegible] near Monticello we committed an error in the na[illegible] one of the discoverers. [illegible] of A. G Phelp[illegible] should have written A. G. [illegible] Girty are the owners of the [illegible] claim

RECEIPTS OF THE M E. FAIR.—The gross receipts [illegible] M. E. Fair at the Washington Guard's A[illegible] amo[illegible] ed to about $620 a very [illegible] sum The expe[illegible] are not yet reckoned up, but they will probabl[illegible] [illegible] one hundred and fifty dollars.

NEW YEARS EVE BALL.—Prof Cardinell and pupil[illegible] making arrangements to give a grand Ball on New [illegible] Eve in one of the largest halls in the city We do[illegible] hesitate to assure the public of a p[illegible] party, [illegible] Professor s parties always are.

PERSONAL.—Dr Wilson Bowlby, of W[illegible] arrived in this city last evening, to take [illegible] Eastern States where he contemplates [illegible] present winter

"THE LOCAL PERSONAGE" of the Commercial is be[illegible] informed that the "local personage" of the Oreo[illegible] did not publish John Everest, nor yet John Ever[illegible] having been fined in the police court or any other [illegible] for drunkenness or any other offence. Sabe!

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all [illegible]

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good fame acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE

Weekly Oregonian.

FOR 1869.

Nineteenth Volume!

Only $3.00 a Year.

By common consent the OREGONIAN ranks first among the papers published in the Northwest. It is the oldest paper in the State and its circulation and influence are greater than that of any other two papers combined. As a journal of enterprise in gathering the latest intelligence, and in giving in each issue a larger amount and greater variety of reading matter it has no competitor. It is thoroughly identified with this city and State and neighboring Territories, where the number of its readers and its influence are constantly increasing.

An unflinching advocate of sound Union principles it at the same time pays special attention not only to MATTERS OF GENERAL INTEREST but to every thing of moment to the great

Agricultural, Manufacturing,

AND MINING INTERESTS,

And to the development of the resources and settlement of the Northwest.

Its columns contain a carefully prepared digest of

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS

Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana

TELEGRAMS FROM

THE EAST AND EUROPE

are published as full as in the California journals, and put before our readers from ONE TO THREE DAYS BEFORE ANY OTHER PAPER IN THE STATE.

Among its corps of writers are regular correspondents at New York and Washington City, men who having lived in this State are able to write on Eastern affairs, both politically and commercially from an Oregon standpoint.

Its Literary and General Selections are from the best sources.

EXTENDED AND RELIABLE

Commercial Reports

are furnished every week, giving the Financial, Dry Goods, Hardware and General Market Reports of Portland, and the latest reports by Telegraph of the San Francisco and New York markets. These reports are acknowledged to be the most accurate published in the State.

In every department it will be as it has been the foremost in the State in the field of journalism. Being firmly established, it will go forward with confidence, making new plans for improvement and usefulness, and hopes to gain increased circulation and support.

TERMS:

One Year	$3 00.
Six Months	2 00.
Three Months	1 00.

The WEEKLY OREGONIAN has been a favorite paper for mailing to friends in the East. It will be mailed from the office at subscription rates.

Subscribers will find on each paper, with their names, the date on which their subscriptions expire, as entered on our books. In renewing, the name of subscriber and post office should be distinctly written.

All papers are discontinued at the end of the time for which they have been paid, the date of which is always printed with the name each week.

REMIT BY MAIL AT OUR RISK in presence of Postmaster, or pay to the nearest authorized agent.

We ask our friends to aid us in extending the circulation of the OREGONIAN in every direction.
